Sparkling Wine - Bottle Fermented, 47 months or more tirage age (White & Rose, Vintage & NV)

Judges: Emma Jenkins, Megan Kopke, Luke Steele, Roxanne Kloppers, Topsi Wallace

Comments: A strong class with good style diversity. Really pleasing to see the freshness in the older wines, very few faults across the class. Lots of nice drinking here.

Class 05

White Wine - Sauvignon Blanc (minimum 85%)

Judges: Julian Langworthy, Emma Jenkins, Steven Paul, Steve Baraglia, Megan Kopke, Luke Steele, Keeda Zilm, Daniel March, Roxanne Kloppers, Tpsi Wallace

Comments: Some lovely, lifted wines with nice poise and drive. The best showed pure fruits and fine acidity, lower pointed wines lacked some freshness or had over levels of residual sugar. A slightly trickier flight to sort through than expected given the strength of this variety in the region. However, there was a solid collection of lovely wines with good freshness and vibrancy, and nice finesse. The top wine was rich and vivid but there is plenty of good drinking to be found amongst the silver medals too.

2025 Adelaide Hills Wine Show

Class 06

White Wine - Chardonnay 2024 or 2025 Vintage (minimum 85%)

Judges: Emma Wood, Julian Langworthy, Emma Jenkins, Steve Baraglia, Luke Steele, Leigh Ratzmer, Megan Kopke, Steven Paul, Marcell Kustos, Grace Jiranek, Blake Fanning, Keeda Zilm, Daniel March, Roxanne Klopers, Topsi Wallace

Comments: An enjoyable flight to judge with a lot of solid wines. A lot of very ripe fruit, in some cases with some uneven winemaking approaches but there was lovely freshness, finesse and skillful winemaking in the best wines and a pleasingly diverse array of styles. 2025 lacking in complexity and fruit concentration. 2024 were stellar with great style, diversity - seamless, lovely, poised and all things nice - Adelaide Hills Chardonnay is a thing and this class showed it in spades. The top six Chardonnays split across the three panels were scintillating examples of the variety, exhibiting sophisticated winemaking and excellent quality fruit. Panel Chars and Chair were thrilled at the quality with all six, and while the top wine emerged as class favourite, there were several solid contenders that challenged its position. Moral of the story is that there were six sensational Chardonnays here... well done.

White Wine - Pinot Gris/Grigio (minimum 85%)

Judges: Julian Langworthy, Emma Jenkins, Marcell Kustos, Luke Steele, Steve Baraglia, Leigh Ratzmer, Keeda Zilm, Daniel March, Roxanne Kloppers, Topsy Wallace

Comments: A fairly solid class overall but few real highs. Mostly well made wines with varietal character, balanced acidity and RS, and pleasing fruit expressiveness. A few wines let down by grubby winemaking or lack of fruit concentration. Best wines really showed what the varietal can do in a region that excels for this variety.

White Wine - Gruner Veltliner (minimum 85%)

Judges: Julian Langworthy, Steven Paul, Steve Baraglia, Keeda Zilm, Daniel March

Comments: Interesting, challenging, compelling and fun. Great class with lots of scope and complexity. Best wines offered texture, spice and acid line. Lesser wines fell into a element of coarseness.

Red Wine - Pinot Noir (minimum 85%) 2024 or 2025 vintage

Judges: Emma Wood, Julian Langworthy, Emma Jenkins, Steve Baraglia, Luke Steele, Leigh Ratzmer, Megan Kopke, Steven Paul, Marcell Kustos, Grace Jiranek, Blake Fanning, Keeda Zilm, Daniel March, Roxanne Kloppers, Topsi Wallace

Comments: Some lovely balanced v25 wines, 2024 showed depth and character. A good range of styles from pure fruited styles to bunchy, some very lovely wines with purity and nice complexity. All round quite consistent showing fresh fruits and quite a lovely tannin structures. Overall this was a tougher flight to pick through with a lot of wines that were pleasant enough without much excitement but higher scoring wines delivered lots of lovely bright fruit, finesse and vitality. Panel Chairs and Chair tasted through the top six golds of all three split classes - the six wines were all exceptionally good, illustrating a slick execution of an array of styles (bunch, reduction, perfumed, silky etc). We expected debate about the top wine to be more heated than it was, three wines were quickly isolated and their merits discussed, and one eventually rose to the top. Across this mini-class, structures were very good, fruit was ripe without being overly so, and generally they were concentrated and balanced. This is a quick note to congratulate all exhibitors on their excellent submissions - keep at it! The wines are great.

Class 13

Red Wine - Pinot Noir (minimum 85%) 2023 vintage and older

Judges: Emma Jenkins, Steven Paul, Marcell Kustos, Roxanne Kloppers, Tpsi Wallace

Comments: A bit of a disappointing class with few highlights. Possibly reflecting a trickier year and that many wines from this vintage may already be sold through. Many tired, out of condition wines with advanced colour and faded fruit, few wines that spoke clearly of the variety. However, the better wines had some nice vibrancy and balance.

Red Wine - Shiraz (minimum 85%) 2024 or 2025 vintage

Judges: Emma Jenkins, Megan Kopke, Luke Steele, Roxanne Kloppers, Tpsi Wallace

Comments: Judges enjoyed this class a lot and there were some very attractive wines in a range of styles from youthful, jube and joyful to more polished, denser styles. The best wines had lovely succulence and vitality with excellent winemaking applied to quality fruit. Lots of pleasure for wine drinkers to be found here.

Judges: Emma Wood, Julian Langworthy, Marcell Kustos, Leigh Ratzmer, Steven Paul, Steve Baraglia, Grace Jiranek, Blake Fanning, Keeda Zilm, Daniel March

Comments: Disappointing class of largely tired wines and some microbial spoilage. Too many wines despite their age where very forward and lacked verve. The best were not good enough. Freshness and colour was a real issue in V23 wines. Many wines advanced. V22 stronger fruit concentration.

Class 17

Red Wine - Gamay (minimum 85%)

Judges: Emma Jenkins, Steven Paul, Marcell Kustos, Roxanne Kloppers, Topsi Wallace

Comments: An exciting class to judge with some very delicious and well made wines. Judges were very pleased by the diversity of styles and careful winemaking on display, few faults in this class. Quite a bit of whole bunch use seen in 2024s (for better and worse at times) compared to other vintages. Very pleasing to see a solid gold medal for a 2022 vintage too. A variety with a happy home in the Hills.

Class 18

Red wine - Tempranillo (minimum 85%)

Judges: Emma Jenkins, Megan Kopke, Luke Steele, Roxanne Kloppers, Tpsi Wallace

Comments: A bit of a rollercoaster of styles and quality with one particular standout. Some wines seemed to struggle with either getting the necessary volume of fruit or to manage their tannins effectively but when things worked well, there was plenty of charm - good food wines too.
